Program Description

The Citizens Police Oversight Commission (CPOC) is the official civilian oversight agency of the Philadelphia Police Department (PPD). CPOC's responsibilities include police reform, investigative efforts, data reporting, and the pursuit of accountability, transparency, and legitimacy of PPD. CPOC also performs intake and referral of complaints of police misconduct, hosts community outreach events, and provides constituent services. The goal of CPOC's work is to rebuild community trust and help restore the strained relationship between the community and the police.

Program Objectives

Investigations Division: CPOC hopes to pursue civilianized independent investigations of police misconduct. Independent investigations ensure that police officers follow the Police Department's policies and are held to professional standards. CPOC aims to conduct the types of investigations its authorizing legislation prescribes, which would forge a major path toward rebuilding trust in the community.

Auditing, Policy, and Research Division: The newly created Auditing, Policy, and Research Division of CPOC uses data, information, and research to review PPD policies and practices. These reviews are targeted in nature and responsive to trends or themes identified through CPOC's work, current events, or community concerns. CPOC will continue to bolster this newly created division, so all aspects of its work are shared publicly with stakeholders when possible and in accordance with CPOC's authorizing legislation.

Public Data Reporting: Data reporting is a major way to build community trust and show narratives of how reform is improving residents' lives. With more staff in the Data Strategies and Analytics Division and support from PPD, CPOC will be better suited to have more public data that will allow for increased transparency.
